It was a rich celebration of the lives of the senior citizens of Pronam, who attended the annual programme of Kolkata Police's South division, held in a city auditorium on Monday.

Pronam is a joint project of Kolkata Police and 'The Bengal', a city-based NGO of prominent individuals. The programme kicked off with the lighting of the lamp and an opening song by the organisation's members. Following this, the senior citizens were treated to a performance by eminent singers Lopamudra Mitra and Pramita Mallick.

Up next was by a dance performance by Nrityaja. The Kolkata Police Orchestra also performed at the function.

Sobhandeb Chattopadhyay, Minister-in-Charge, Power and Non Conventional Energy Sources, Govt of West Bengal, also graced the programme as the chief guest, along with MP Subrata Bakshi and Mala Roy, chairperson of KMC.

Culturist Sundeep Bhutoria, who is also the secretary general of 'The Bengal', was spotted interacting with different senior citizens' groups and taking their feedback after the programme.

The joint convener of project, Agnimitra Paul, along with senior Kolkata police officials like Hari Kishore Kusumakar, Sujay Kumar Chanda and Praveen Kumar Tripathi were also present at the event.

An evening of music & melodies

Amyt Datta

A tea lounge on Golpark played host to a number of top city musicians recently as Arko Mukhaerjee launched his album, The Lion and the Hamster.

The album is a modern-day fairy tale, told through a set of eight instrumental pieces. Each piece has a tale woven around it alongside a hand-drawn illustration. It is an attempt to correlate music with image and text as a medium for storytelling. In spite of being complete in itself, all the eight tales are linked to form one fable.

Apart from Arko, the album also features Arinjoy Sarkar, Diptanshu Roy, Koustav Dey, Nishad Pandey, Jonathan Dreyfus and Emmanuel Simon.

We spotted city musicians Amyt Datta, Ludo, Neel Dutt and Shamik Chatterjee in the crowd and many were seen congratulating Arko on his success.
