SENIOR CITIZENS'

special screening of Arindam Sil's Durga Sohay was organised at the auditorium of Bodyguard Civil Lines, Alipore, on Saturday, for the members of Pronam—a joint initiative of Kolkata Police and a city-based NGO, The Bengal. Comprising prominent personalities from the state, Pronam works for the welfare of senior citizens and the minimum age of its membership was recently reduced from 65 to 60 years.

Sundeep Bhutoria, general secretary of The Bengal, said, "Entertainment for senior citizens is as important as their health care or security. We take such initiatives on a regular basis to keep our members entertained and happy."

Apart from Arindam, who is the joint convenor of Pronam, we also spotted Tollywood actors Sampurna Lahiri and Tonushree Chakraborty at the screening.

Gear up to study in the UK

f studying in well-known UK universi- available in areas like international busities, like Sheffield, Leicester, Manchester. Southampton, Edinburgh, York, QMUL, Newcastle, Coventry, Brighton and Kingston, has always been your dream, here's your chance.

One of the most popular disciplines is engineering and the courses on offer are automotive, mechanical, aerospace, civil, chemical, IT, computer science, electrical, electronic and communications. There is a two-year Master's degree, where the second year is spent in industry training thereby enabling students to get work exposure as well as earn. Courses and scholarships are ness, marketing, finance, MBA, architecture, biotechnology, psychology, law and English literature, among others.

Education Pathways India is organising a seminar for students who wish to explore higher studies in the UK at their Kolkata office at the first floor, 6B Jatin Das Road, Kolkata 700029 (near Deshapriya Park) from November 19 to 21 between 11 am and 4 pm.

Interested candidates and parents are requested to call up the Kolkata coordinator at 9830050627 or 9007279674 to fix an appointment or visit the centre to get all the details.

'I would like to thank Education Pathways India for guiding me through my admission in the University of Sheffield after I got my Bachelor's degree in psychology from Bengaluru. I've obtained a total scholarship of close to £14.000 for MSc in human resource management' — SUPARNA RAJII

13th edition of Blenders Pride Fashion Tour reached Kolkata on Saturday. And sashaying down the ramp at a glitzy show held at a five-star hotel in the city, were models in exquisite designs by Shantanu & Nikhil and Nikhil Thampi. The showstopper for the former designer duo was Bolly heartthrob Sidharth Malhotra. No wonder, guests were spoilt for choice — on one hand were beautiful outfits by the designers and on the other was Sidharth, confidently walking the Speaking about their collection, Shantanu & Nikhil said, "Our collection is a reiteration of our vision of belonging to something bigger than ourselves. It features structured trench coats, bandhgalas and long sherwanis teamed with drapes.

In fact, that's exactly in keeping with the theme of Blenders Pride Fashion Tour 2017 — Style: More than you think.

Raja Banerji, assistant vice-president, Pernod Ricard India, said, Style is fundamentally democratic. Every individual has the potential to create their unique identity and strive towards authenticity that breaks stereotypes. The Blenders Pride Fashion Tour 2017 — the most definitive expression of style and good taste — brings alive this insight with an amalgamation of the biggest names in fashion, music and Bollywood. As always, the effort was to provide an exciting experience to consumers," he added.

Some very talented musicians were also part of the tour. While Kamakshi Khanna sang a few amazing numbers during the show, Kavya Trehan and Curtain-Blue aka Abhishek Bhatia kept the mood upbeat with groovy tunes.

With love, from Goa: This was Goa-based band Electric Pulse's first performance at Live at Pantiles on Friday. And city boy Anirban Halder (top), who's also the vocalist and the lead guitarist of the band, surprised everyone with his rocking performance. "I was touring eastern India with my band and performed at Someplace Else on Thursday. I stayed back in the city to perform at Pantiles, while my fellow band mates left for Goa. The crowd here was awesome and everyone requested me to come back here for a show," said Anirban. He was supported by city-based musicians, Subhomoy Mitra (above) and Sugato Hari (above left) during the act.

Electric Pulse rocked Tolly Club's weekly live musical gig

Cuteness overloaded: Kids at the event made the most of their time as they ran around the club premises, shaking a leg to the music every now and then, "I look forward to every Friday as I get to dance with my friends and listen to many new songs," said Laavanya Pothi (above left).

Tolly: We spotted directors Anindya Ghosh (top) and Indranil Roychowdhury (above) having a good time at the do.
